ROME IN GALA ATTIRE

Thousands Gather to Do Honor to
Pope Leo XIII.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

St. Peter's Cathedral Packed by People From Various Nations of the Globe, Among Them One Thousand Americans.

Rome, March 3.—From sunrise today all Rome was on the alert and showing most unusual animation and interest in the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Leo XIII. This movement was especially noticeable at the large hotels, which were illuminated as though for a ball. An idea of the number of people congregating at the Vatican could be formed by the fact that it was utterly impossible to get a carriage if the vehicle had not been ordered Monday, especially as it was raining, and the scene on the piazza of St. Peter's was magnificent. There was assembled many hundreds of Italian troops in various modern uniforms, making a striking contrast with the old time costumes of Swiss Papal guards on duty at the bronze doors of the cathedral. The crowds, which gathered before the first cordon of troops, were impatient as they stood dripping under the persistent rain. There was a great clashing of umbrellas and general feeling of discomfort among waiting sight-seers, who included very many women in most varied attire, comprising foreigners of all nationalities and Italians from all parts of the world. The uniforms of the crowd were pleasantly broken by groups of sisters in different gowns of their orders, Catholic students and picturesquely attired friars.

When finally the doors of St. Peter's opened an almost indescribable struggle occurred, in which all present forgot the rules of his holiness and strove hard with elbows and feet to reach the interior of the sacred edifice, while on all sides were heard cries of fear and imprecations not very suited to a spot where the notable religious ceremony was about to begin. Once inside the cathedral ladies who wore lace gowns

POPE LEO XIII.

found them to be in bad condition, and some women were carried away in fainting condition. The tribunes were soon crowded to overflowing and all of the best standing places taken. A period of comparatively calm succeeded this great rush and attention of the people attracted to the gilded throne.
Near the altar the immense pillars of the basilica were hung with red silken draperies. Some of the tribunes on each of the altars were filled with men and women blazing with decorations. In the group of royal parson-ages were Crown Princess Victoria of Sweden and Norway, Countess Mathilde of Trani of the Bourbon-Naples family, the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar, Duke of Robert Parma, Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg, Prince Lichtenstein and Prince Maximilian of Saxony.

In a special tribune was the pope's family, diplomatic corps and members of the Order of Malta, all in full uniform.
After an hour of very fatiguing waiting the majestic procession began to appear. It was composed of great dignitaries of the church, forty-five cardinals being present in gorgeous red robes, this alone making the most imposing characteristics and picturesque group. At 11 o'clock precisely the great bell at St. Peter's rang out a signal, which was followed by clanging of bells of about 500 churches in Rome as they sounded the announcement of the pontiff on his way to the basilica. The life of the ancient city seemed to pause for a moment.
Hats were raised and the sign of the cross made. Shortly afterwards inside St. Peter's silver trumpets blared out their message and the pontiff appeared. The people held their breath for a moment, and then all pent up enthusiasm burst forth in a tremendous roar of welcome.

From his elevation in the new sedia gestatoria, carried by twelve men, the pope appeared to be more than a human being. He seemed to be white in spirit, this impression being added to by the pontiff's white robe and white mitre, his thin hand moving slowly in the benediction. As the pope proceeded, thousands of voices shouted, "Long live Pope Leo," handkerchiefs fluttered in the air, banners of various societies waved and many of those present were overcome with emotion and sobbed loudly, while others fainted from excess of feeling or fatigue. After the celebration of mass the pope administered the papal benediction and retired to a room for restoratives, prepared on purpose every time he goes to St. Peter's. There, addressing Dr.

Papponi, his private physician, the pontiff said: "You see that after all your warnings, the ceremony did me good. What touching loyalty." It is calculated there were 75,000 persons present, including 1000 Americans.

GENERAL DEFICIENCY.

Bill for That Purpose Was Adopted by the Senate Monday.

Washington, March 3.—The senate Monday passed the general deficiency bill after four hours' consideration and after it had been amended in several particulars. An amendment by Mr. Rawlins calling for an appropriation of $50,000,000 to further the work of irrigation of the arid lands furnished matter for considerable discussion. Mr. Rawlins contending that the surplus in the treasury could be better used in this manner than by turning it in the national banks. The amendment was rejected on a point of order. Then the Aldrich financial bill was taken up Mr. Teller continued his remarks begun Saturday. He was followed by Mr. Carmack, who replied to some criticisms of a recent speech by him on the subject of murders in the Philippines. During the course of the day the conference report on the fortifications appropriation bill and the Alaskan homestead bill were agreed to.

The immigration and omnibus public building bills were sent to conference. Messrs. Fairbanks, Warren and Turner being appointed conferees for the latter bill and Messrs. Penrose, Fairbanks, Lodge, Clay and McLaurin of Mississippi, for the former.

DAY ON BENCH.

New Justice Now a Member of United States Supreme Court.

Washington, March 3.—William R.
Day, the new associate justice of the United States supreme court, sat with the court for the first time Monday.
The ceremony of initiation was in accordance with the usual practice of the court. Clerk McKenny read the president's commission and Judge Day took the oath of office.

CLERKS WORN OUT.

They Were Kept Busy Calling the Roll
Over and Over Again.

Washington, March 3.—From 11 o'clock Monday morning until late at night the house struggled laboriously against the Democratic filibuster, working steadily to wind up the necessary business of the session. Despite another special rule adopted early in the day legislation proceeded at a snail's pace. Roll call followed roll call on every proposition. The voices of the reading clerks were worn out by the ceaseless calling of the roll and several clerks from committees were drafted to help out. Since Thursday last, when the filibuster was inaugurated, there have been over sixty roll calls as against fifty seven for the entire long session, lasting from Dec. 1, 1901, to July 3, 1902. The members also showed the effect of the heavy strain, but they stuck to their posts. Monday night the great hall presented a dis-hevelled appearance. The floor was strewn with bits of paper, looking as if a snow storm had swept through the hall. In the galleries among the spectators were many weary watchers interested in bills doomed to failure, but still hoping on to the end.
The proceedings were enlivened several times as the leaders of the respective sides crossed swords. The temper had not been sweetened by their long vigil and frequently the sparks flew.

The conference report on the Alaskan homestead bill and the immigration bill were adopted, the omnibus public building bill and the general deficiency appropriation bill were sent to conference. The Otjen bill to prohibit tobacco dealers from giving prizes, the bill to provide for a delegate from Porto Rico, a bill to advance Major W. C. Gorgas to the rank of assistant surgeon general and a bill for the relief of Lieutenant B. F. Hand-forth were passed. That was the net result of the session up to 9 o'clock Monday night.

lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows is in session in Dallas, about 2000 delegates being in attendance.

the convention, including the election of officers for the next term, the installation of officers elected a year ago, the retirement of the officers whose places are taken, the annual reports of officials, conferring the degree of the ness and other proceedings on the part of the Rebekah lodges of the state.

The following officers were installed:

NEPOTISM MATTER.

Opposition Has Developed to the Resolution of Napier.

Austin, March 3.—Mr. Napier called up in the house Monday the resolution introduced some time ago by himself and Messrs. Calvin and Trice, declaring against the practice of nepotism in the state departments and institutions, and requiring heads of departments related to the head by affinity or consanguinity.

An amendment by Mr. Mulkey, to include in the resolution the railroad commission and the superintendent of public buildings and grounds, and an amendment by Mr. Ragand, to include members of the legislature, were adopted.

Mr. Napier made a strenuous argument against the practice of nepotism, which had been condemned, he said, by the Democratic party. It went over.

The bill by Messrs. Stewart and Brelsford, providing for a state department of agriculture, was laid before the house on passage to engross-ment. Several amendments offered by Mr. Stewart to perfect the bill were adopted. Mr. Stewart said that the amendments were offered to conciliate every opposition to the bill and that everything had been done to make the bill acceptable to every interest. Went to second reading.

Bill providing for manual school education was passed.

Mr. Callan secured consent to take up the bill forbidding child labor in factories, mines, mills and manufacturing establishments. The committee substitutes fixes the age limit at 12 instead of 14 years, forbids employment at night of any child under 14 who is unable to read, and forbids employment in mine or brewery of any child under 16 years old.

An amendment by Mr. Griggs adding the emergency clause was adopted. Bill finally passed.

Observed at University.

Austin, March 3.—The natal day of the Texas republic was observed with elaborate ceremonies at the University of Texas. The orators of the day were Hon. W. A. Hanger, senator from Tarrant county, and Hon. R. C. Duff, representative from Jefferson county.

BONDS BOUGHT.

New York Firm Purchases Iron Mountain Securities.

New York, March 3.—Vermilye & Co., bankers, announce that they have purchased $10,000,000 first mortgage thirty-year four per cent gold bonds of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad. This is one half of the amount authorized to be issued now, and is part of a total issue of $50, 000,000. The money derived from the sale of the bonds will be used for new mileage and terminal construction at St. Louis. The $10,000,000 not taken by Vermilye & Co., have been sold to other parties and the money for this second lot will be furnished, it is said, as required.

It is not expected that more than $20,000,000 of bonds will be issued at this time.

Drifting Before the Gale.

Dover, March 3.—The Calais mail boat Pas de Calais with 200 passengers on board is reported from Dover to be drifting helplessly before a gale. Large bark, believing to belong to Hamburg, has founded off Land's End. Her crew numbering twenty, are thought to be drowned.

Picked Up in the North Sea.

Hamburg, March 3.—The house carpenter of the British ship Cambrian

SENATORS SELECTED

Delaware Legislature Has Broken a Lengthy Deadlock.

EACH FACTION WINS.

For the First Time in Four Years Is That State Fully Represented in the Upper Branch of National Legislature.

Dover, Del., March 3.—For the first time in four years the state of Delaware Monday secured full representation in the United States senate. At a special session the state legislature elected State Senator J. Frank Allee (Union Republican) to the senatorship which expires in 1907, and Congressman Theisler Ball (Regular Republican) to the term expiring in 1905.

The selection was undoubtedly due to pressure from Washington brought to bear upon the regular Republicans in the legislature who have all along been opposed to the election of J. Edward Addicks or any of his adherents to the United States senate. Congressman Dick of Ohio came to Dover in the interest of Republican harmony. He established headquarters at Hotel Richardson, where, prior to the joint session of the legislature he received a delegation from each Republican faction. He advised the acceptance by the regular Republicans of the Union Republicans' proposal agreed upon in Philadelphia on Saturday, that a Union Republican be elected to the long term senatorship and a regular Republican be elected for the short term. Addicks himself to be eliminated. In this connection Mr. Dick said:

"The regulars should accept the proposition of the Union Republicans. This is the best thing to do and is what the national committee want. I am doing all I can to bring about this result."

The thirty-fifth ballot was taken at noon and resulted in no election and a recess was taken until 2:30 o'clock. After the agreement between the Union and regular Republicans had been reported the Union Republican legislators met in caucus and named J. Frank Allee as their candidate for United States senator. The Democrats in caucus decided unanimously to vote for one regular Republican, but were unable to agree on the proposition to vote for two regular Republicans. The election of Messrs. Allee and Ball was announced to an audience that filled the house of representatives to suffocation. The noise and confusion on the part of those who came to see the proceedings was so great that many of the legislators became bewildered and apparently did not know how to vote when the roll was called. The appearance of Congressman Dick in the hall was the signal for wild and prolonged applause. Beside him sat Mr. Addicks. The latter evinced much satisfaction when the result was announced. He was the first to congratulate Senator Allee and was followed by a long procession of legislators and spectators, all of whom were anxious to shake the hand of the successful candidate.

The election is regarded here as an Addicks victory because of the refusal of the regular Republicans to agree to a compromise with the Democrats.

"I have only to say," said Senator Allee, "that I sincerely regret that I have to fill the place that belongs to Mr. Addicks."

FRANCIS AND LOUBET.

President of St. Louis Exposition Received by French Executive.

Paris, March 3.—President Loubet received Mr. Francis, president of the St. Louis exposition at the Elysee palace at 5 o'clock. After a cordial exchange of amenities and a discussion on the subject of the St. Louis exposition, which lasted fifteen minutes, the president invited Mr. Francis to occupy the presidential box at the Grand opera and to return later and take part in the grand ball at the Elysee palace given to the officers of the army and navy. Both invitations were accepted.

President Loubet who received the president of the St. Louis exposition very warmly, spoke of the cordial relations existing between the two countries and referred to the peculiar interest that France had in the Louisiana Purchase exposition. He assured Mr. Francis that the French republic would be fittingly represented, and spoke of the interest France took in American affairs. M. Loubet said that he hoped that the French officials and the public generally would take this opportunity of seeing the remarkable development of the United States.

Following his call at the Elysee, Mr. Francis was the guest of honor at a banquet given at the ministry of commerce by Minister Trouillot.

Mr. Francis expressed himself as highly gratified with the cordiality of his reception everywhere and remarked that it indicated that France was taking genuine interest in the affair.

THOUGHT A WIFE.

Body of a Woman Found at New Albany May Be Mrs. Knapp.

New Albany, Ind., March 3.—Although Edward F. King failed to positively identify the body of the woman found in the river here as that of his wife's sister and wife of Alfred Knapp, the impression is strong that the body of that of one of Knapp's victims.

After being removed to the undertaking establishment of Shrader Bros., at 118 West Main street, New Albany, the body was embalmed and to a greater extent recovered its natural color. Decomposition has set in. Mr. King in examining minutely the jewelry found in an ear and the bruise above the knee, declares the body to be that of Hannah Goddard Knapp.

The matter of identification is extremely difficult. The body is green from long exposure to water, there is no hair on the head and the body is nude, save for a stocking on each leg. It is believed that it is the body of Hannah Goddard Knapp, and that it was put in a rough box and thrown into the Miami river at Hamilton, Ohio, Dec. 22. It floated on out of the Miami and into the Ohio and down past Louisville, where it rose to the surface and was discovered.

In her ears were found gold wire earrings, and on the third finger of the left hand an embossed ring with three little birds and an owl. On her legs were black stockings, and on her right leg, just above the ankle, was a dark bruise.

In every particular the body of the floater was found to tally with the minute description of his wife given by Knapp in his confession.

MISS FAY LEE,

President of the Shakespearean Club, Kansas City.

"Your booklet came to my home like a message of health when I had suffered with headache, backache and bearing-down pains. I was weak, nervous and hysterical and had not consulted any doctor, thinking it would pass away in time, but instead I found that the pains increased and were more frequent. I decided to try Wine of Cardui and in a short time was much improved. It seemed to act like a charm. I kept up the treatment and the result was most satisfactory. Words fail to express my gratitude for the suffering that is now saved me. I am in fine health, physically and mentally. I can only say 'thank you', but there is much more in my heart for you."

BEARING-DOWN pains are the worst that women know. If you are suffering from this trouble you need not be uncertain about it. The pains in the abdomen and back that feel as if heavy weights were pulling down on the nerves of the stomach are "bearing-down pains". They may not be particularly severe at present but they are growing worse. That headache which nearly drives you distracted now is caused by the terrible nervous tension. The nervous system soon begins to give way under the strain. You perhaps jump at any unusual disturbance, or laugh or weep, hysterically, at no apparent cause. That is what Miss Fay Lee, 608 1/2 North Seventh Street, Kansas City, Kansas, was coming to when she rescued herself by taking Wine of Cardui. The Wine made her a strong, healthy woman again, as it has made a million other women strong and healthy. By inducing regular menstruation the entire system is relieved of the terrible wasting drains. The ligaments which hold the womb in place are strengthened by a healthy flow and that organ is returned to its normal position. Returning health is the result. This is what Wine of Cardui has done for thousands of the best women in America.

If you need advice write The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn., describing all your symptoms freely, and a letter of advice will be sent you. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist to-day.
